Solons Call Hoover To Testify Tomorrow

Wish To Plug Further Atomic Leaks

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—Grove-faced lawmakers anxious to plug any further leaks in atomic security today called J. Edgar Hoover to testify Monday after hearing first-hand that a trusted British scientist—now an atomic spy suspect—was free to obtain "most vital weapons information."

The Senate-House atomic committee asked the top G-man to testify in closed session as they sought to learn from Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves the size of the hole in America's atomic treasure chest.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) related to reporters that Groves, wartime head of the atomic project, had told the congress members that scientist Klaus Fuchs had "access to a wide area of the most vital weapons information." Groves indicated this included data on the proposed hydrogen bomb.

Hoover already has told a Senate appropriations group, according to reports, that Fuchs became a paid Moscow agent in 1939. He was filtered into the English atomic setup after the war broke out. The physicist then worked his way up to become a member of the British atomic mission to this country.

Fuchs was also present even at the assembly of an atomic bomb. Groves testified behind closed doors—closed, one committee member said, to keep other possible spies from hearing tips which might cause them to skip the country.

McMahon announced that Groves will testify again at a public hearing Monday afternoon, after the joint committee hears Hoover behind closed doors.

Fuchs Had Opportunity
McMahon said Groves told the atomic committee today that:

(1) "He had no doubt as to Fuchs' opportunity for knowing vital information," and (2) the British scientist was never subjected to an American security check, having already been cleared by his own government.

Fuchs is a naturalized citizen of Great Britain. He was born in Germany and his father now lives in the communist zone of the former enemy nation.

The 36-year-old scientist was brought to court Friday in England to face charges of relaying U. S. atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. The FBI said at the time that it was the source of the tip which resulted in Fuchs' arrest.

Rossellini Has Tussle With U.S. Newsman In Rome

Rome, Feb. 4—(AP)—Robert Rossellini, the Italian film director who specializes in realism, tussled with a news cameraman three minutes tonight outside the hospital housing Ingrid Bergman and her infant son. The clash was bloodless, but sound effects were loud.

"Scoundrels!" Rossellini shouted as he jumped from his new American motor car at the gates of the villa Magherita clinic.

"This is enough! enough! when are you going to stop this?" Rossellini seized photographer Jack Birns of Time and Life magazines and shook him violently.

Birns, who comes from Los Angeles, shoved Rossellini right back. Other photographers snapped the scene as the two 185-pounders jostled each other. Both are about five feet, 10 inches tall. Rossellini is 43 and Birns 31.

Turning to a uniformed policeman, Rossellini ordered: "Arrest this man!"

The officer ignored the order. Rossellini then turned and stalked into the hospital where he has been living since the Swedish film actress, still legally the wife of Dr. Peter Lindstrom of Hollywood, gave birth to the boy Thursday night.

WOMAN FALLS WHILE WASHING WINDOWS AND IS KILLED

Chicago, Feb. 4—(AP)—A nine-year-old boy watched his mother lose her balance and fall to her death today from a second floor apartment window.

The boy, Joseph Vitagliano, tearfully told police his mother, Mrs. Catherine Vitagliano, 41, had been washing windows. She had been sitting on a window sill with her legs inside, he said.

When a window stuck, the boy related, his mother gave it a yank. The window jerked free, she lost her balance and fell to the ground, he said.

The woman's husband, Nino, 44, a tailor, and two other children, Beatrice, 21, and Nicholas, 19, were at work at the time.

Charges Stalin Trying To Destroy Russ Jews

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor charged today that Stalin is trying to wipe out Jews behind the iron curtain.

The AFL's executive council said Russia is imitating Hitler by making life miserable for Jews as a class—in a way that means "virtually sentencing these human beings to death."

These charges were included in a council statement urging the senate to ratify quickly the pending international treaty against genocide. This is the term that has been given to the international destruction of racial, national or religious groups.

The AFL council said what Stalin is doing to the Jews is a "tragic extension and frightening innovation in this crime of mass murder."

The American Federation of Labor keeps a force of trained observers in Europe operating closely with the underground movements in Russia-dominated territory.

The council's statement said: "The new drive to make impossible the continued existence of Jews in Russia and in its satellite areas is going on under the flag of a savage war against so-called cosmopolitanism."

"Their crime is that they have, or might develop, a culture different from the ultra-nationalist and imperialistic brand supported by the ruling party, by the totalitarian dictatorship in Russia."

"A vicious campaign is afoot to chase out all Jews from employment in occupations entailing contact with the mass of people in the USSR or with the people of other countries."

The council said the genocide treaty would mean international sanctions could be applied against this treatment of the Jews and "against the destruction of life through slave labor."

Russians Drop 'Little Blockade'

Banker Slashes, Beats Three To Death, Kills Self

Tampa Fla., Feb. 4—(AP)—A grief-maddened New Yorker butchered his wife, sister-in-law and mother-in-law today and then killed himself by diving in front of a truck.

Peace Justice J. C. Spicola identified the victims of the insane attack by Tony Slichta, 50, of Yonkers, as Mrs. Anna Slichta, 47, her slightly younger sister, Ellen Ruziak, and their mother, Mrs. Peter Ruziak, 70.

Slichta was a bank clerk of the Guaranty Trust Co. in Manhattan. The night-gown clad women were slashed and beaten with an eight-inch butcher knife, a wrench and a claw hammer at the Ruziak home.

Spicola, also acting coroner, said there was no question that Slichta did the killing and then killed himself in a fit of depression over the critical illness of his father-in-law, Peter Ruziak.

Ruziak, 77, near death from cancer in a local hospital, is still ignorant of the tragedy.

When police burst into the home this afternoon they found Mrs. Slichta drained from her body through three stab wounds in the back, a throat cut in the living room, the blood wound and a crushed skull.

The aged Mrs. Ruziak apparently was struck down as she sought to escape through the kitchen. Miss Ruziak was found in a blood-spattered bedroom.

Police Sgt. J. M. Flaherty said Slichta jumped in front of a truck driven by O. A. Crawford, 32. He quoted Crawford as saying Slichta made the leap "as if he were diving into a pool."

Navy Flier Crashes To His Death In Marsh Near Gary

Gary, Ind., Feb. 4—(AP)—A navy flier crashed to his death in a Bearcat fighter plane today in a marsh near Lowell, 15 miles south of here.

Glennview air station, 20 miles northwest of Chicago, identified the victim as First Lt. Joseph Frank Ross, Jr., 28, Glencoe, Ill.

A Marine Corps reserve officer, he held the Distinguished Flying Cross for service in the Pacific in World War II. He was employed as an industrial sales coordinator for the General American Transportation Corporation in Chicago. He was single and lived with his parents.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph F. Ross of Glencoe.

The air station said the cause of the crash was undetermined.

Lt. William Kinsey, Glennview public relations officer, said the plane took off there this morning for a local flight.

The pilot's body was found in the cockpit after the plane nosed into the earth in marshy ground on a farm. Wreckage was scattered over an area 30 yards wide, but the plane did not burn.

CHICAGO GIVES PLANES HURT TELEVISION

New York—(AP)—In home television reception, one annoying type of interference results in fluttering pictures. This is caused by airplanes flying in the path of the received signal. The only remedy is to wait for the passing of the plane.

This fluttering effect is the one that makes possible plane detection in the radar system.

Blizzard In West Blocks Highways, Isolates Towns

By The Associated Press
A blizzard that knifed through parts of the Pacific northwest halted trains and blocked highways Saturday. Two cities in the area faced a critical water shortage.

Flood waters continued their rampage in parts of Arkansas and the Mississippi neared the emergency stage at New Orleans. But elsewhere in the nation the flood picture was brighter.

A blizzard roared through Oregon's Columbia river gorge Friday. Nearly 24 hours later the area still was being pounded with sleet-laden winds of gale velocity.

Police, highway and train crews rescued scores of trapped motorists but all highway traffic was halted. Three westbound trains were held up at the Dalles, just east of the gorge. Eastbound trains were stopped at Portland. A westbound Union Pacific mail, express and baggage train was trapped in the gorge, but a snow plow was working just ahead of it.

Ice caused breaks in water mains and let reservoirs run completely dry at Aberdeen, Wash. Many sections of the city of 25,000 were without water. Aberdeen's seven lumber mills and two plywood plants were forced to shut down.

Another American Mrs. Simpson Weds British Royalty

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—Another American Mrs. Simpson married in British royalty today.

In a simple ceremony at the National Presbyterian church here the socially prominent Romaine Dargren Pierce Simpson, a pretty Washington divorcee, became the bride of the Marquess of Milford Haven, second cousin of King George VI.

The 30-year-old Marquess, however, did not have to relinquish his title as did his other royal cousin, the Duke of Windsor, who gave up his throne 13 years ago to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, a Baltimore divorcee.

The 26-year-old Marchioness is the daughter of Mrs. Clark McIlwaine of Washington. Her first husband was William S. Simpson, of Locust Valley, N. Y., whom she married in 1946. They were divorced last year and have a 22-months old daughter.

She met the Marquess, a heater salesman, while visiting in London. Their engagement, announced early last fall, was received with excitement in international circles.

Tuesday Is 'T' For Toys Day For European Children

Philadelphia, Feb. 4—(AP)—Tuesday is "T" day for thousands of European children. "T" is for toys.

About 900,000 toys collected by the American Legion from all over the United States will be shipped to Rotterdam aboard the U. S. Lines' Flagship, American Defender.

CARE, a relief organization, will distribute the toys to children of The Netherlands, Austria, Berlin and western Germany.

It is the first shipment of many. Underprivileged children of France, Italy, Great Britain, Greece and Norway will get toys in future shipments.

The nationwide "Tide of Toys" program was launched on Dec. 26, with 17,400 American Legion posts serving as collection centers.

California has pledged 1,000,000 contributions while Wisconsin Legionnaires report their total will be at least 250,000. Illinois pledged 200,000.

Officials said shipments had arrived from such communities as Ulysses, Neb.; Logansport, Ind.; and Strawberry Point, Ia.

Lord Norman, Head Of England's Bank, Dies In His Sleep

London, Feb. 4—(AP)—Lord Norman, who headed the Bank of England longer than any other man in its 256 years, died in his sleep early today.

The spruce financier, whose trademarks were a Van Dyke beard, conservatism and secrecy, was better known as Montagu Norman. He was 78.

King George, upon the recommendation of Winston Churchill's government, made him a baron in 1944 when he retired after 24 years as governor of the Bank of England, 19 years longer than any of his predecessors.

Lord Norman was known as "the sphinx of Threadneedle street"—the address of the institution which was banker to the government, lending its funds, carrying its accounts, managing its gold and issuing its money.

There rarely was any precise news about Montagu Norman—only rumor, speculation and surmise. It was said he thought in millions and spoke in monosyllables. In his career he gave just two newspaper interviews and made one speech.

Advisers Say Truman Will Invoke T-H Law On Lewis

U. S. Moves On Many Fronts To Strengthen Cold War Positions

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—The United States moved on many fronts this weekend to strengthen key military and political positions against Russian pressure in the cold war which steadily grew hotter.

Top officials here were reported continuing today to seek some formula that would lessen the tensions of the conflict. But in the state and defense departments—perhaps the White House itself—there appears to be almost no optimism about the chances of an improvement in the world situation.

By contrast with Senator McMahon's $50,000,000 proposal for winning atomic arms control, the actual moves of administration officials disclosed here are mainly concerned now with matching American power against Russian power at every point of the conflict where new strength can be brought to bear.

What apparently causes American policy makers most concern is that the Soviet-Communists, having scored their tremendous triumphs in China, now are pressing on in southeast Asia.

Moreover, as ECA administrator Paul Hoffman reported on his return from Paris, all official information indicates that the western European Communists are beginning to regain confidence in Moscow's leadership and generate the driving power of new offensives.

Officials in position to know gloomily concede that at the moment Russia is on the offensive in position to strike new blows at many sectors of Communism's Eurasian frontier.

The western nations on their part have lost much of the momentum worked up by the early successes of the Marshall plan and the Atlantic treaty. They are holding strong in positions in Europe still—even in Germany and Berlin—but there is concern for the future and there is obvious western weakness in dealing with the situation in Asia.

Diplomatic authorities pointed today to the following present or prospective steps by the American government as indicating a grave concern with which Washington looks to the future as well as the means being employed to strengthen the western position:

1. President Truman ordered the United States will recognize the French-backed Viet Nam regime of Emperor Bao Dai. The Russians and Chinese have already recognized the Communist administration of Ho Chi Minh.

2. Similarly in Europe, the United States, Britain and France are confronted with the possibility of strong Moscow-directed action against another country—Yugoslavia—which is extremely important to them in the cold war. It symbolizes the matter to the United Nations. The real reason behind his decision is that Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Acheson believe this is a time to give every evidence of strength and determination in developing strength and take no action which could be interpreted by the Russians as a sign of weakness. It is a fundamental of present American foreign policy making that the men in the Kremlin score the appeals of reason or compromise and react only to real political or other force.

3. The Navy is planning to strengthen its forces in the western Pacific to offset the threat of large scale Russian submarine operations.

4. Since Inco-China may well be the next main theater of conflict in the Far East, the State department and the defense department are considering measures which might strengthen the non-communist forces there.

Probably next week the United States will recognize the French-backed Viet Nam regime of Emperor Bao Dai. The Russians and Chinese have already recognized the Communist administration of Ho Chi Minh.

4. Similarly in Europe, the United States, Britain and France are confronted with the possibility of strong Moscow-directed action against another country—Yugoslavia—which is extremely important to them in the cold war. It symbolizes the matter to the United Nations. The real reason behind his decision is that Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Acheson believe this is a time to give every evidence of strength and determination in developing strength and take no action which could be interpreted by the Russians as a sign of weakness. It is a fundamental of present American foreign policy making that the men in the Kremlin score the appeals of reason or compromise and react only to real political or other force.

Scientists Ask Promise U.S. Will Not Use H-Bomb First

Western Electric Employees May Join Telephone Strike

New York, Feb. 4—(AP)—Western Electric Company installation workers, 11,000 strong, threatened today to join the nationwide telephone strike set for next Wednesday morning.

Their union, division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said the walkout would take place unless a wage dispute is settled.

Numerous other groups of telephone workers are threatening a strike against the Bell System beginning at 5 a. m. (CST) Wednesday.

Western Electric is an American Telephone and Telegraph Company subsidiary. The installation workers put in heavy telephone, telegraph and television equipment for A. T. & T. in 43 states.

Ernest Weaver, president of the installation workers' union, served notice of the impending strike at a negotiations meeting attended by William N. Margolis, assistant national director of the U. S. mediation and conciliation service.

Despite the H-bomb's vast power, their statement said, this country could survive an H-bomb attack and effectively strike back.

Signers of the statement along with Bethe were Dr. S. K. Allison, wartime director of the Chicago Metallurgical Laboratory that developed plutonium manufacture, Dr. P. S. E. Seitz, University of Illinois, also at Chicago and at Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Dr. K. T. Bainbridge, Harvard, a division leader at Los Alamos; also Doctors R. B. Brode, University of California; B. Rossi and V. F. Weisskopf, both Massachusetts Institute of Technology, all three leaders in Los Alamos bomb-making; Dr. C. C. Lauritsen, director, Kellogg Radiation Laboratory, California Institute of Technology, who did some wartime work for Los Alamos; Dr. George P. Pegram, dean of graduate facilities, Columbia, who directed Columbia's early atomic project; Dr. P. W. Loomis, chairman, physics department, University of Illinois, who directed wartime radar development; Dr. M. G. White, Princeton, also in wartime radar; and Dr. M. A. Tuve, Carnegie Institution of Washington, who directed the wartime proximity fuse project.

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill, Jr., issued bench warrants for the arrest of the two men.

The graying, heavy-set Holes was picked up at his home by sheriff's deputies a short time later and lodged in the county jail.

Dotson, a bachelor, was said to be living in Jackson county, Ohio, near Oak Hill.

Sheriff Meade said he had asked Sheriff Stanley Lewis at Jackson, the county seat, to pick Dotson up.

Says America Should Build It To Prevent Use

New York, Feb. 4—(AP)—Twelve top American scientists called today for a solemn promise that the United States never will use the hydrogen bomb unless it is first employed against us or our allies.

The scientists, mostly A-bomb men, said this country should develop the bomb for one reason only—to prevent its being used.

They sounded two warnings:

1—Russia probably will have the H-bomb in less than four years.

2—The bomb—ours or the Russians'—will be much more powerful than most estimates have indicated. A single H-bomb could wipe out New York or any other great city.

"It's use would be a betrayal of all standards of morality and of Christian civilization itself," said the group, headed by the real father of the H-bomb, Dr. Hans A. Bethe, of Cornell University, who discovered how the sun makes its heat with hydrogen.

All are attending the annual meeting of the American Physical Society. They spoke for no group, but for themselves as "worried citizens."

Could Survive Attack
Despite the H-bomb's vast power, their statement said, this country could survive an H-bomb attack and effectively strike back.

Signers of the statement along with Bethe were Dr. S. K. Allison, wartime director of the Chicago Metallurgical Laboratory that developed plutonium manufacture, Dr. P. S. E. Seitz, University of Illinois, also at Chicago and at Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Dr. K. T. Bainbridge, Harvard, a division leader at Los Alamos; also Doctors R. B. Brode, University of California; B. Children's Teeth
Decaying Too Fast For State Dentists

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4—(AP)—Children's teeth are decaying six times faster than dentists are able to repair them. And more complete dental care—especially preventive care—is needed in Illinois, the state health department said today.

Director Roland R. Cross called for observance of National Children's Dental Health Day on Monday. He urged dental, health, education, and welfare groups to consider setting up a children's dental health program in communities without such programs.

"Eight times as many dental defects as the combined total of all other physical disabilities are noted among children entering grade school," Dr. Cross said.

CHAMPAIGN SCHOOL SAFE ROBBED OF $500

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 4—(AP)—Burglars broke open two large safes in the offices of Champaign Junior High school early today and escaped with about $500.

The safes were in the offices of the superintendent of schools and the junior high principal.

Police Sgt. Albert Bickers said he believed the burglary occurred after janitors left the building at 11 a. m. The burglars entered by breaking a window.

Acheson Says We Must Be Careful In Asiatic Deals

Washington, Feb. 4—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today that the Asiatic people have a decision between moving toward the free west or toward Soviet Communism and we must not risk "hasty or ill-considered action" that might do "irreparable harm."

Acheson gave his views in a letter made public by Senator Lehman (D-Lib-N.Y.), who wrote Acheson that he was deeply troubled "that no positive course suggests itself" in China.

"I assume," he said, "that we must seek the closest possible contact with the Chinese people and show them that our desire is x x x the advancement of their welfare and their interest x x x."

Acheson replied: "I fully understand your uneasiness that no positive course suggests itself. You have gone on to suggest, however, what, I think, is a positive course and, in the long run, a most important one—we should seek to maintain the friendliest relations with the peoples of Asia, and we should show the Chinese people that our desire is, as it ever was, the advancement of their welfare and interest."

Children's Teeth
Decaying Too Fast For State Dentists

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4—(AP)—Illinois citizens contributed $4,600,000 to the American Red Cross last year, a report to Governor Stevenson showed today.

The governor endorsed the 1950 fund raising campaign of the organization beginning March 1.

The 1949 report said paid Red Cross workers at the major military installations in Illinois spent nearly $400,000 to aid servicemen, veterans and their families.

This was in addition to heavy emergency outlays following disasters such as the tornado in the Wood River vicinity last spring, and the recent southern Illinois floods.

WE'RE STILL PAYING FOR WAR GOODS STOLEN IN PHILIPPINES

The Army's Criminal Investigation Division reports that $2,000,000,000 worth of U. S. goods stockpiled in the Philippines for the invasion of Japan was stolen soon after the war ended.

Copies of these intelligence reports are in the hands of a New York newspaper. Further Army inquiry is said to have been dropped. But the Defense Department is looking into the case and the Senate Investigations Committee is conducting a preliminary check.

Unless the C.I.D. reports are grossly exaggerated, this thievery was so bold and flagrant that investigation should be pursued to the limit.

According to Army intelligence, the network of stealing and black market operations was broad and deep. It included Army officers and enlisted men, a large number of Filipinos, including many whose contacts reached to the top of the political ladder; Filipino law enforcement agencies, especially the police in Manila and provincial towns, and civilians of other nationalities.

The thefts covered a great range. Jeeps, trucks, quonset huts, narcotics, pipelines, even an oil tank farm were stolen. This last is a story in itself. The 17-tank farm had been a landmark for airmen. Its loss was discovered when pilots reported the landmark gone. Virtually overnight the tanks and auxiliary pipelines disappeared off the map.

The Philippine government now says it could realize just $45,000,000 from the more than $1,000,000,000 in surplus supplies allotted to it. It wants another $55,000,000 from the U. S. to make up a minimum of $100,000,000 which it says we promised would be gained from sales of the material.

Why should you and I be concerned about stealing reported to have taken place thousands of miles across the Pacific? Because these thefts are an affront to every honest citizen—who is of necessity still paying in heavy taxes for the goods siphoned into Philippine black markets.

When he has dug deep into his pocket to finance war material purchases, the citizen deserves assurance first of all that his money was well spent. If the material wasn't used before war ended, he should be able to feel the surplus was sensibly and honestly disposed of.

Army authorities say the involvement of Filipino law enforcement units makes it impossible to obtain punishment of the Philippine offenders or regain any great part of the stolen material.

If that is so, there would seem little reason to hand the Philippine government another $55,000,000 in lieu of those goods. If the Philippines suffer corruption that goes clear to the top, certainly the government must shoulder some of the blame.

As for Army offenders, ten officers have thus far been convicted of stealing supplies. The C.I.D. indicates that many more must either have joined actively in thieving or closed their eyes to it. Every effort should be made to seize and punish others who can still be apprehended.

Maybe we can't wipe out this blot altogether. But at least we can reduce it from black to gray by showing we don't view such disgraceful dishonesty with indifference.

MARY ALICE HENSLEY

When the Indiana University Men's Concert Choir appears in Jacksonville Monday evening, Feb. 6, for a concert, there will be two girls with the chorus—Mary Alice Hensley of Martinsville, the featured soloist, and Barbara Bacon of Greenvich, Conn., accompanist.

The IU Choir will give its Jacksonville concert at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium under auspices of the Band Parents association, with Mrs. Alice Engelbach in charge of arrangements.

Miss Hensley, a contralto, is a senior in the I. U. music school and has received high praise from music critics for her appearance with Helen Traubel and Lauritz Melchior in the concert version of Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" in the University's auditorium last month. Miss Hensley studied at Alma College, Mich.

Hensley has studied voice with Madame Dorothea Mankel, Josephine Antoine and Myron Taylor, all former members of the Metropolitan. She has sung important roles in the operas, "Tales of Hoffmann" and "Parafal" when given at the University.

In the program chosen for Jacksonville, Miss Hensley will be heard in Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody," the highlight of the group's program.

Should We Pave The Countryside?

By HAL BOYLE
New York—P.—What shall we do with the American farmer? Shall we turn him into a parking lot attendant?

This appears to be on forward-looking solution of a problem as old as the Republic—the fight between the city and the countryside.

It looks as if the city has won. The next step is to pave the farmlands, leaving the United States one vast sea of concrete and asphalt, studded with parks, suburban lawns—and billboards.

This will give everyone room to park his car, and the farmer can make more money renting his acres as garage space than he can growing unnecessary potatoes.

At first glance this may seem a far-fetched solution of the present parking and traffic problem, but is it? Not if the present population and way-of-living trends keep up.

In 1820, the year Daniel Boone died, there were 5.5 persons to the square mile, and the old frontiersman felt the country was too crowded to live in. What would he think today when there are 50 to the square mile?

Population Doubled
The population doubled from 75,000,000 in 1900 to 150,000,000 by 1950. And there are also some 50,000,000 autos and trucks cruising over the trails along which the buffaloes used to lope. And thousands more are being built every week.

For decades the rural areas have been losing to the city in terms of percentage of total population. For a long time country people complained about this. They said the cities weren't really self-sustaining in population—their bright lights just lured the boys off the farms. This may have been true once, but you know what the census bureau has just discovered? It has found out that, man for man, the city dweller is now having more children than his country cousin. The farmer today is going in for large tractors instead of large families. He has learned that one good machine is more of an economic help around the farm than five strapping sons used to be.

City Boys to Country
What does this mean? It means that instead of the farm boys going to the cities, the city boys are going to move out deeper and deeper into the countryside. But the water at the machine is more of an economic help around the farm than five strapping sons used to be.

COMMUNITY MEETING
Prairie Union community club will meet Friday evening, Feb. 10, the countryside. But the water at the machine is more of an economic help around the farm than five strapping sons used to be.

bus routes are going right along with them.

The cities are on the march, too back to the countryside. There used to be a pretty sharp line between cities. There isn't any more. The city slicker and the hayseed are neighbors. Often they are the same guy—this is the fellow who has a day job in the city but goes home at night to an acre or two in the country. Or it is the suburban farmer who wheels five miles into town to sell his produce.

Gradually the cities are spreading like pools of water that eventually will unite into one vast American municipal lake.

What about food? Oh, the scientists are learning to grow that in the laboratories. And when they do, then the cities will only mushroom faster—as the amount of food available is the only real check on population.

So someday the whole wide countryside will be paved, the mountains leveled, the deserts gone, and only a little grass left here and there to keep the chicken's chirp alive, and a tree in each community to welcome a robin each spring.

There'll be no traffic problem, as there will no longer be much need for streets. You can drive anywhere except across an airfield. But you'll still pay to park.

I only wish I could live long enough to bid on the paving contract!

Mrs. Lucille Vindick of Milwaukee, Wis., and H. V. McCracken, Jr., of Murrayville were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in a ceremony performed by the Rev. F. V. Wright at the Baptist city dweller is now having more children than his country cousin.

Installation Held For Cub Pact 111 Thursday Night

Cub Pack 111, sponsored by the Pilgrim society of the Congregational church, was formally installed in an impressive, candle-lighting ceremony, which took place at the church Thursday evening. The ritual was conducted by Maurice Moriarty, assistant Cub Master of Pack 111.

Preceding the installation, the Cub members, who number about 50, enjoyed a movie in the Joy Prairie room. The film was shown by Dr. Raymond P. Templin.

During this period, the mothers and dads, the Den Mothers and other adults met to discuss promotions and Den programs with Cub Master William T. Wilson and Scout Executive D. M. McDermott.

Following the installation, a charter for Cub Pack 111 was presented to Dr. George L. Drennan, as institutional representative. Dr. Drennan in turn introduced Dr. W. H. Pankhurst, pastor of the church, who extended a cordial welcome to the group.

The pack committee was then introduced. Serving on the committee are Ernest Hildner, chairman; Hugh Beggs, secretary-treasurer; Leavitt Arnold, Walter Gaylor, Paul Hartley, Wilford Queen and Irvin Todd; and R. H. Bradley, assistant Cub Master.

The Den Mothers are Mrs. Hugh Beggs, Mrs. Ross Bradley, Mrs. Wilford Queen, Mrs. Paul Hartley, Mrs. Flounoy Berry, Mrs. Bert M. Whitlock, assistants, Mrs. Marvin Schuetz, Mrs. Floyd Miller, Mrs. Ernest Hildner, Mrs. Elgin Wells, Mrs. John Conant, Mrs. Robert I. King.

Den chiefs are David Pierce, Roger Cannell, Allen Biggs, Jr., John Douglas, and Donald Covey.

The next meeting of the Cub Pack will be held at the church on Thursday, March 2. A potluck supper will be served.

Zoning Commission Receives Report On Study Of Land Use

A detailed land use and zoning study has been placed in the hands of the Jacksonville zoning commission by Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis city planners who were engaged some months ago by the city council to make surveys toward the drafting of a new zoning ordinance.

The large amount of data contained in the report has been gathered by representatives of the city planning firm, whose representatives have held a series of meetings with the zoning commission. The Bartholomew company's land use and zoning report is in the form of a book, its chapters covering such subjects as the scope, mechanics, purpose and effect of zoning; land use survey, general land use arrangement, land use trends and problems.

Other sections of the report take up future land requirements, with estimates of the future growth of Jacksonville.

Expert Action This Spring

The St. Louis company is expected to furnish the zoning commission with a proposed new zoning ordinance and the city plan early this spring, after which the commission will present it to the council for consideration. The five-man zoning commission was appointed by Mayor Hoagland several weeks ago.

Members of the citizens' commission are Earl M. Spink, Lawrence Crawford, George Lukeman, Jr., Morse Updegraff and Attorney John Bellatti.

With a realization that a new zoning ordinance holds interest for large numbers of persons, The Journal and Courier will during the next few weeks publish sections from the report of the city planners.

In the introduction to the land use and zoning report, the Bartholomew company's experts stated:

"Many different types of land uses are found in a modern city, in addition to places in which to live—single-family homes, duplexes, apartments, boarding houses—and the places in which people work such as commercial enterprises and industries, there are public uses such as churches, institutions, and the like. Modern life is extremely complex and the types and kinds of buildings serving the many varied needs of the inhabitants of a large modern city are, consequently, numerous and complex also. The arrangements of these many different buildings and land uses, their relationship with one another, and the manner in which the pattern of land uses is adapted to the site of the city, very largely determine the character, efficiency and quality of the community.

Buildings Not Static

"Relatively speaking, a city such as Jacksonville can be considered as permanent. The different parts of the city, however, particularly the buildings, are not static but are constantly changing as they are adapted to new conditions, new conceptions of human needs, and new technological improvements. The great majority of existing buildings will, no doubt, be replaced when they have outlived their usefulness.

"The control of the use of land through zoning is a most important function of local government in a city. The type of land use and the intensity of land use form the basic community pattern. Harmonious relationship between these are the first essential to a sound and satisfactory city. Control of land use through zoning is essential to avoid the hodge-podge and chaotic pattern with residential, commercial, industrial and public and semi-public uses all intermingled—that is the inevitable result when there is no community control.

Control Is Necessary

"As reasonably but relatively stringent control is always necessary for the purpose of promoting and encouraging private development. By and large, our communities are built by the individual construction of separate buildings. The successful use and operation of any individual building is dependent very largely upon the particular physical environment surrounding this building. For example, a single-family home in an industrial district is not a satisfactory place in which to live; nor is a small isolated store as good a business enterprise as a store that is grouped with others at a strategic location where the entire group serves the needs of a large surrounding residential area. If there is no consistent community control of land use there is no method whereby a man

More Members Needed By P.T.A. Mothers' Chorus

An increased membership is desired by the P. T. A. Mother's Choral group, which is an organization for mothers of children in the four ward schools, Junior High and South Jacksonville schools.

All mothers who have children enrolled in any of these schools are cordially invited to become members of the group and to participate in its activities.

Membership now numbers about 12. A group of 50 or more is considered ideal. Miss Barbara Dixon of MacMurray college is the director.

The group meets each Monday for a one-hour practice session. The time of the session has been changed to 1:40 p. m., which is considered a more convenient time for the mothers.

All those interested in belonging to the group are urged to be present next Monday.

Members who have not yet returned their Christmas music are asked to do so as soon as possible. It is to be left at the Youth Center.

Ashland Grade Pupils Move To New Addition

Ashland—The students of the seventh and eighth grades moved this week into the new addition at the high school.

Raymond McGraw will be the teacher for the eighth grade and Miss Sarah O'Neal will teach the seventh grade.

This building was started in July and would have been completed earlier but was delayed by not getting wood from the mills for the staircase and waiting for the furnace before they could fix the floors and other painting jobs.

The building is heated by its own furnace. This building is made up of the seventh and eighth grade rooms, two coat rooms, girls and boys rest rooms; the basement, part of which will be made into a lunch room later and a library which will be used by junior and senior high.

ILLINOIS POWER COMPANY

Power Co. Will Install 40 Ton Propane Tank

OTTO H. NIEMANN

Avowed Candidate County Judge Democratic Primary.

We all want better candidates, but we'll never get them by adopting complacent attitude toward those "related."

Instruct Your Committeeman! (Political Adv.)

A 30,000 gallon tank for the storage of propane was moved through the business district Friday to its permanent location on property of the Illinois Power Company, between South Main and Sandy streets.

The huge receptacle will take its place on a concrete foundation not far from two other tanks, both of 18,000 capacity.

The propane tanks make possible the manufacture of gas in this city in event of emergencies. The city is now supplied with gas through large pipe lines.

Hubert A. Little, area manager of the Illinois Power Company, said the addition of the 30,000 gallon tank increases the storage capacity to a point that sufficient gas could be manufactured here to meet needs in an emergency.

Sixty-eight feet in length and nine feet in diameter, the tank is one of the largest single units of heavy equipment ever received here. Weighing 40 tons, it was shipped to this city over the Burlington railroad. The firm of Jacob Cohen's Sons was engaged to transport the tank from the railroad to the power company property with heavy trucks.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Hogs were quoted within a $15.25 to $18.00 range today, closing a week in which barrows and gilts advanced 50 to 75 cents while sows gained 75 cents to $1.00. The top of $18.00, made yesterday, was a new high since last October.

Chief reason for the upturn was declining receipts. With arrivals slumping for the third straight week, there was little doubt that the peak of the mid-winter movement had passed. It did not expect to have to support prices by buying pork.

Only minor price changes took place in steers and heifers this week, final quotations being steady to 50 cents lower than a week ago. Top of $39.00 was paid for a part load of high choice 1249 pound fed steers, but the best price was $36.00.

With prices for dressed lamb jumping in the New York market, a better demand developed for live animals. Slaughter lambs ended 75 cents to $1.00 higher.

Carl E. Robinson Addresses Young Republicans Meet

Attorney Carl E. Robinson was the speaker at the February meeting of the Young Republican club, held Friday night at the Dunlap hotel.

Mr. Robinson's topic was "Abraham Lincoln." He placed special emphasis on the period of Lincoln's life which was spent in and around Morgan county.

Several of the candidates who are seeking the Republican nomination in the forthcoming primary elections were introduced and spoke briefly.

During the business session it was announced that the Young Republicans had furnished 15 Christmas baskets which were given to the Salvation Army for distribution among the needy.

The club presented a bouquet to Mr. Robinson for his wife, who is ill at the hospital. Other flowers were awarded to Mrs. R. Y. Rowe, Mrs. Alvin Unland and Judge Paul Pens-macker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deem served as program chairman for this meeting. The tables were attractively decorated in a motif of red, white and blue. Several guests who were present at the last meeting will be held on March 3, with Russell Armstrong as program chairman. The results of the current membership campaign will be announced at that time.

New York Stock Market

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN

New York, Feb. 4.—Buyers took a highly selective approach to today's stock market.

Many of the usual pivotal issues were either unchanged or showed only minor variations. A hand-picked group of stocks showed a little more life, mostly in higher price ground. Turnover hit a rate of around 700 million shares for the two-hour session.

The market showed a tendency to move upward at the start. The rise was checked at about the time John L. Lewis, in effect, rejected the President's proposal for a truce in the coal industry so that much needed output could be stepped up. It was questionable, however, if Lewis' rejection had much direct effect on the price trend.

General Motors was a favorite with a rise of around 1 point at one time. A good many traders look for generous dividend action when GM directors meet next week.

Electric Boat stepped up to a new 1949-50 high on comparatively brisk turnover and Consolidated Cigar turned in a two-point gain.

Also higher were Goodrich, International Harvester, American Telephone Allied Chemical, Nickel Plate, Skelly Oil, and Celotex.

Corporate bonds plodded over a narrow price route.

It is the custom of the natives of eastern Nepal, Asia, to sing for years.

Sports Writers Poll Picks 'Babe' Ruth Top Baseball Player

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—George Herman Ruth, the intangible and immortal Babe, was named today by the greatest baseball player of the past 50 years.

The mightiest home run slugger the game ever has known, Ruth was more than a great player. This large, hulking top-heavy man with the dainty ankles, who lambasted 730 baseballs out of big league ball parks, was the idol of the youngsters of America. He continues on that pedestal even in death.

No player ever has left as great an impression on America's national game as this lusty, fun-loving and magnetic person. Starting out in life as a wail in Baltimore (Md.), Ruth became the most colorful and most lovable figure any sport has ever known.

Holder of nearly every long range hitting record in the books including the most coveted of all—60 home runs in a single season—Ruth easily outdistanced all opposition in the opinion of sportswriters and sports-casters in the Associated Press mid-century poll.

It was strictly a two-man race between the New York Yankee slugger and Ty Cobb, American league's 12-time batting champion, with the Babe a runaway winner. So completely did this dynamic duo dominate the poll that between them they drew all but 24 of the 393 votes cast. The Bambino bagged 253 votes to 116 for the fiery Detroit Tiger outfielder.

Lou Gehrig, who together with Ruth formed the most fearsome one-two punch in the history of baseball, attracted eight votes to land third place. The slugging first baseman got one more than Walter Johnson, Washington's immortal right-hander. The famous hurler, called the fastest pitcher of all time, was the only one besides Cy Young to register over 400 victories.

Joe DiMaggio, present Yankee outfielder, drew five votes for fifth place. He was followed by Pittsburgh's Hans Wagner, king of the shortstops, and the New York Giants' Christy Mathewson, generally regarded as the National League's No. 1 pitcher. Each received two votes. No other player got a call.

Ruth earned more money in baseball salaries than anybody else. When he retired from active duty in 1935, he had made more than $2 million dollars including his top 20 million of $80,000 in 1930-31. That was the same overgrown 19-year-old lad who signed with Baltimore at $600 a season following his "graduation" from St. Mary's industrial school in February of 1914.

Ruth went on to gain undying fame as a pitcher and outfielder with the Boston Red Sox and earned even greater fame as a member of the Yankees. During his hey-day as a pitcher, he was the excited ruler of the four-base wallop. Ruth was the Yankees' it was more than anybody else who made the Yankees one of the greatest machines of all time.

Fifty six of Ruth's records still stand intact. The one most people know about is the 60 circuit swats in one season, 1927. He slammed 714 in regular season play, 15 in world series competition and one in an all-star game. The nearest to him was Jimmy Foxx with 534. He batted in more runs than any other ball player in the major leagues. He won the American league's home run crown 10 times and tied twice. He led the league in batting in 1924 with a .378 average. As a pitcher, he holds the record for the most consecutive scoreless innings pitched in world series play, 29. It could go on and on.

Ruth's lifetime batting average is among the first six in baseball. The only retired men who have topped the Babe's all-time .342 are Willie Keeler, Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Tris Speaker and shoeless Joe Jackson. And only Cobb crossed the plate more times than Ruth.

"Shucks," Ruth one said, "I couldn't hit a .600 lifetime average easily. I woulda had to hit them singles. The people were paying to see me hit home runs."

One of Ruth's best batting days occurred on the day of the unveiling of the Indians' new park in Cleveland back in the early '20s. Babe got 5 for 5.

"You know what happened," he related. "The fans booed me all over the park. I didn't hit a home run."

DeLaTorre Holds Lead In Tucson Open Golf Tourney

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Manuel De La Torre, Glencoe, Ill., a newcomer who refused to crack under pressure, tonight held a two-stroke lead at the end of 54 holes in the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf tournament.

Playing before the biggest gallery of his career, he remained composed and unflinching in shooting a four-under-par 68. This gave him a total of 197 to establish a new competitive mark for the par 70 El Rio course.

Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., and Ralph Lomeli, Fresno, Calif., moved into second position with 54-hole totals of 199.

Henry Williams, Jr., Secane, Pa., was three strokes back of the leader with 200.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., who was paired with Sneed as the pre-tourney favorites, improved his position today. He shot a five-under-par 63 to give him a total of 202. Grouped with him were Glenn Teal, Memphis, Tenn., who was tied for third yesterday; Jack Burke, Jr., White Plains, N. Y., and U. S. Open champion Cary Middlecott, Ormond Beach, Fla.

Wally Ulich, Minneapolis, Minn., one of the first-day leaders, shot 68 today for a third round total of 223. Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill., also had 203.

Ohio State Beats Wisconsin 61-47

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Ohio State took a stranglehold on the Big Ten basketball race Saturday night with a thrilling 61-47 victory over Wisconsin. It gave the Buckeyes a 7-1 record in league play and was the second defeat in five conference starts for the Badgers.

Waltime score was 21-31.

The game also saw Ohio State's high scoring forward, Dick Schmitt, pull in front of Wisconsin center Don Rehfeldt in his personal scoring duel—although the average of both in league competition dropped.

Schmitt hit for 14 points, giving him a 161 total in eight games and a 20.1 average. He previously had held a 21-point average. Rehfeldt was held to 11 points on three fielders and five free throws. His average dropped from 21.7 to 19.6 on 58 points in five games.

Rehfeldt's greatest contest late in the game on personal fouls.

Ashburn was a rookie sensation in 1948. He hit 333, stole 32 bases, was chosen rookie of the year and played in the All-Star game. Last season he hit .264 and stole nine bases.

Notre Dame Whips Marquette 79-61

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Notre Dame's basketball Irish routed Marquette on a Tuesday night upset by Butler and drubbed Marquette's Hilltoppers Saturday night.

The Irish didn't have to bounce very high against Marquette, loser of 11 in 14 games. It was Notre Dame's 37th victory in the 49-game series, the third of the oldest in the midwest.

Only Guard Melvin Peterson was consistently effective for Marquette, scoring 15 points. The Hilltoppers trailed 37-29 at the half. Notre Dame's balanced attack pushed ahead steadily in the second period.

Guard Kevin O'Shea scored 17 points in Notre Dame's 10th victory of 16 starts this season. Center Dan Bagley added 16, sub center John Foley got 13 and forward Leslie added 10.

Illini Stay In Big 10 Race, Defeat Gophers

Minneapolis, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Illinois pushed Minnesota a little farther down the Big Ten basketball ladder Saturday night by a 67 to 57 win over the Gophers.

The victory gave Illinois, the defending conference champion, a season record of four victories and two losses and warned that the Illinois still are strong contenders to repeat.

The Gophers have now won but two games and lost four in conference competition.

Strength at the free-throw line proved invaluable to the Illini, who sank 21 of 28 gift toss attempts.

Early in the opening minutes, the Gophers went ahead, and held the advantage until late in the period, chiefly because of the efforts of captain Whitey Skoog, Virgil Miller and Wally Salovich.

An attack sparked by Burdette Thurby and Don Sunderlage overcame that and sent Illinois ahead 37-31 by half-time.

The Gophers lost their scoring eye for the first eight minutes of the third period, and Illinois took advantage of it to move ahead, 47-39.

Ability of the Illini to get in close, and drop baskets in played an important part in the victory. Minnesota threatened momentarily in the closing minutes, narrowing the gap

U. Of Iowa Student Charged With 1st Degree Murder

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 4.—(AP)—John county Attorney Jack White today filed an information charging Robert E. Bednasek, 24, Cedar Rapids, with first degree murder.

Bednasek is accused of fatally choking Margaret Anne Jackson, 18, Burlington, after the couple had attended a fraternity party last December. Both were University of Iowa students, where rooming occurred in the men's dormitory house.

Bednasek lived.

No trial date has been set.

Bednasek pleaded innocent last Dec. 15 to a preliminary information charging murder and was bound over to the grand jury. He remains in jail, held without bond.

Francis Quimet won his first U.S. amateur golf title in 1914 at the age of 21, and his second 17 years later at the age of 38.

By Bob Morris

Jacksonville high school basketball fans, discouraged by their team's 74-58 defeat in the hands of Winchester Friday night will take heart in this information. E. Posey's Wildcats enjoyed a rare night at the hoop, hitting 580 of their shots, according to actual statistics recorded by the Crimson coaching staff. The entire Winchester starting five hit 500 or better on one player, Harry Northrop, connected with seven out of seven fielders for a perfect night.

Other Winchester shot-marks posted were Cummings, 666; Drummond, 555; Hoots, 500; and Andrell, 500. Cummings was the leading point-maker, notching ten out of 16 attempts for a 20-point performance. The entire Wildcat team dropped in 29 out of 50 attempted shots.

In the words of Crimson Coach Chapman, "Winchester was too good...red hot. The fact that at least half the shots made by them (Winchester) came when they were closely guarded, makes this average uncanny."

And, the Jacksonville boys were no slouches in the point-making department. Chapman was far from disappointed with his club's 361 shooting from the field. Led by Williams who dunked six out of 12 tries, the locals spread 22 baskets in 61 tosses. Dick Flynn also had 500 in the average department while John Rhodes and Harvey Meyers were 444 gunners; Jess Million 400; Jack Chapman 363 and Ike Wright 333.

Ron Kemp, Crimson guard, was injured at the start of the game, but not seriously.

Both clubs shot above average—the difference was in the Wildcats' impossible marksmanship which included falling away successful tries while getting into the stands and sitting on the floor. The Crimson's 361 mark which was good for 58 points, will win lots of ball games in the upcoming regional tournament. And, if Winchester keeps playing "there'll be a hot time in the old gym tonight," they're going to cause more than a stir in the Pittsfield tourney.

We hate to douse cold water on high hopes, but how long can a team shoot at that pace? Winchester fans probably saw a once in a lifetime performance—their '50 Wildcats outdid even their '49 predecessors who established a new high-scoring record for Illinois in the '48-49 season.

Routt's athletic success in 1965 was insured when "Bud" Hall, who coached the Rockets two years ago, became the proud daddy of a bouncing seven pounds, six ounces—baby boy Friday. Unofficial sources disclosed yesterday that athletic goods warehouses have been flooded with orders for size 60005 basketball shoes. Congrats Bud and Helen.

Two Boys Fall Through Ice On Pond, Drown

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Two Evansville boys drowned today when they fell through ice on a pond in the east part of town. The victims were Henry Bauer, Jr., 9, and Clemens Wundelich, Jr., 7.

A pulmotor and artificial respiration were used on the boys without success. The bodies were found in six feet of water.

Several persons told police the boys had been playing on ice on several ponds in the neighborhood. An inquest is planned Monday.

Bradley Trounces Pittsburgh 81-48

Proctor, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Bradley University's basketballers rolled to their 16th victory in 21 starts Saturday night with an 81-48 walkover the University of Pittsburgh.

Bradley fired in a phenomenal 56 per cent of its shots, bagging 33 of 57 field tries.

The Panthers made a scrap of it for only a short time before a Bradley surge carried the Braves to a 22-6 lead midway in the opening period. Bradley held a 40-24 halftime lead.

Pittsburgh tried stalling tactics to slow up Bradley's fast break, but the Braves' speedy shooting routed the Panthers.

In the opening half, Bradley sank 15 of its 29 field shots.

Charley Grover and Gene Melchiorre led the Braves with 17 and 16 points respectively. Footballer Lou Cecconi tied the Panthers with 12 points.

The nationally-ranked Braves look win No. 19 Monday night loss against Wichita.

Longest inter-league series scheduled for baseball spring training is the average professional hockey between the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants, who will meet 18 times.

Whip Wheaton 60-58 In All-Important CCI Tilt; Longer Gets 21

Wheaton—Dave Billings' last second long shot gave the Illinois College Blueboys an all-important 60-58 Little Nine conference victory over the Wheaton Crusaders here Saturday night.

The Jacksonville collegians, who made their northern junket minus the services of all-conference guards Bill Shouse and Bob Grove, pulled from behind a 29-25 halftime deficit to snare the win.

The victory pushed Al Miller's athletes up a notch in the conference race with a 4-2 mark. Wheaton was lowered from the lead and rests below the Blueboys with a 3-2 standing. Millikin, sporting a 5-2 mark, rates slightly better than the Millermen in league play.

Crippled without Shouse and Grove the Hilltoppers played inspired basketball all the way against the highly favored Wheatonites.

After fighting bitterly to overcome a 13 point margin held by the Wheaton hosts midway through the second half and knitting the count at 58-58, reserve Guard Paul Lasley took a jump-throw from Billings and held the ball for 30 of the 35 remaining seconds. Miller's strategy at this point was to hold the ball until time was almost out and get in one shot before going into an overtime if the single try failed.

Lasley dribbled the ball to the far side of the court and literally talked the situation over with the veteran Billings. Billings told the sophomore guard to hold the ball until five seconds remained and give it to him because he "felt a shot coming on." His "feeling" paid off with a swishing one-hander that hit the cords as the gun went off.

Rebounding was the instrumental factor in the Blueboys' victory. All the Jacksonville athletes were remarkable in their success although Don Longer was probably the most outstanding. The bulky pivot man was moved to a guard position and scored 21 points, mostly on drive in shots.

Bill Gross intercepted numerous passes to help the Hilltoppers overcome a 41-23 deficit in the second half. Though he failed to score a field goal, Bill Gross set up many of his team mate's goals and was an invaluable asset under the bank-boards.

Barney Vilk was deadly with his corner shots and was the runner-up Blueboy scorer with 17 tallies. Bob Murray hit with his pivot shot from fur out and added eight points to the Blue team while Paul Lasley and Dave Billings, big guns in the final minutes, did their share towards giving Al Miller the win.

Franklin Tamps Bluffs Quintet In 40-26 Tangle

Franklin—Fresh from a victory over their number-one rivals, Waverly, Friday night, Joe Treat's Franklin Flashes whipped an impotent Bluffs outfit 40-26 here Saturday.

The two clubs played cautious ball in the first quarter and Franklin led only 4-3 at the break. Using zone defense and slow-breaking offenses the antagonists wound up the half with Franklin leading 16-16. Treat's boys slipped out front 27-18 in the third period and drove on for an easy win.

Cline's 11 points were high for Franklin. James paced nine Bluffs scorers with seven markers.

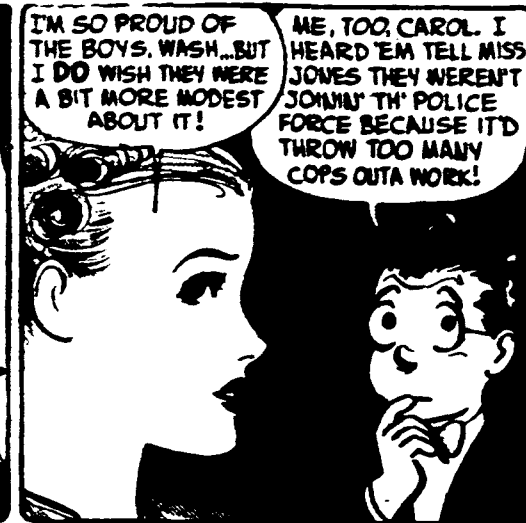

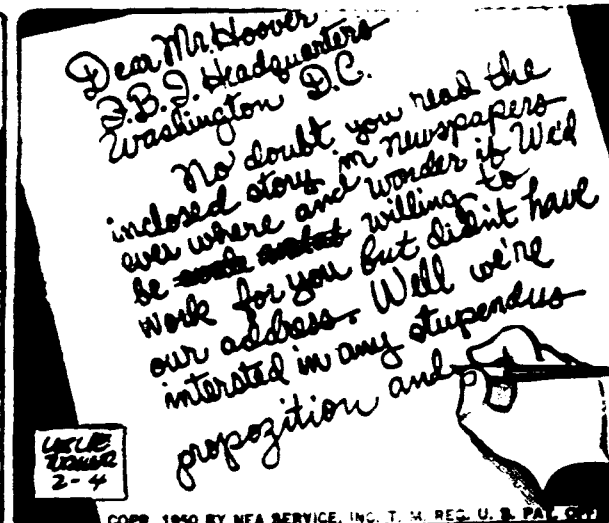

The Bluffs second edged out the Franklin reserves 37-34 in the pre-lim.

shots.

Bill Gross intercepted numerous passes to help the Hilltoppers overcome a 41-28 deficit in the second half. Though he failed to score a field goal, Big Bill set up many of his team mate's goals and was an invaluable asset under the bank.

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY: Alice Fine, literary secretary to the popular writer Mrs. Muriel Halleck, has been on the job only a short time before she realizes that something is not quite right. The storm center seems to be Brent, Muriel's estranged husband, who is described as a village loafer by the women of the village of Tolliver, nearby. Brent is a "blue guy." A few days later Alice has a lunch with Molly Tremaine, who lives in Tolliver, and Molly is telling Alice all about Brent Halleck.

AS Molly Tremaine paused in reciting the history of the Halleck family, Alice asked: "Was Brent's brother Bill the father of Rick—the little boy Brent and Muriel adopted?"

"Yes, Bill was the one that was killed three years ago in a plane crash. And old Jordan Halleck was Brent's father, and he wasn't worth a continental. Drank like a fish. But Jordan inherited the house on the Point and a few acres. Everything else had been dissipated by the time he grew up."

"So Brent inherited from Jordan?"

"No, he didn't. As I say, Jordan was no good. Wouldn't work, but gave himself the airs of a country squire. And it caught up with him. Molly finished the sandwich, lit a cigarette. "Brent must have been about 13 years old when his father had to sell the Point and the old house with it. The old man took a licking too. It was one of those really old houses, big as a country club and rambling all over. But it was a white elephant. Still, the buyer didn't care. He was a New York stockbroker with pots of money."

"Which he lost in the depression?" Alice guessed.

Molly shook her head. "They said he actually made money during those dark days. But his wife died, there weren't any children, and I suppose he lost interest. Anyhow, he went back to New York. But he put a fantastic price on the place. So fantastic that, for years, nobody would touch it. And there it stood, going to rack and ruin."

"Where had the Hallecks gone?"

"Hartford, Jordan took a job in a factory there and eventually died. I don't know what Brent and Bill did all that time. Matter of fact, I never saw Bill again. But Brent came back."

"Yes?" Privately, Alice was ashamed of her avid interest in Brent's history. Feeling as she did about him, it seemed totally unwarranted.

"HE reappeared here some time after Pearl Harbor," Molly continued. "All tricked out in a captain's uniform and handsome as all get out. And some of us tried to be decent to him. To Muriel too. They'd just been married. But Brent was scarcely civil. They stayed at Tolliver Inn and Brent left after three weeks. While he was here, though, he bought the Point back. Rackety old house and all."

"Even at the crazy price?"

"According to rumor, Brent seems to have reached for it. He'd have had to. Land values were up and the Point's desirable."

"Then what?"

"Brent went back to war. And left Muriel—she was just beginning her writing—in that barn of a house. But he did get her a servant."

"Sounds grim even with a servant," Alice envisioned two women rattling around in a barracks-like building on the lonely Point.

"Must have been. But Muriel was a brick. She went at her writing hammer and tongs. Put it over, too, in no time."

"Brent came home on his leaves, I suppose?" Alice said.

"Humph!" Molly snorted. "He did once or twice early in the war."

But they sent him to the Pacific. We didn't—she squinted—"see hide nor hair of Brent Halleck until the war had been over more than a year. You see, he got himself transferred to some outfit in the Japanese occupation. He didn't want to come home, if you ask me."

Alice frowned. "I can't imagine why."

"Who can? He finally got his discharge after Bill and his wife were killed, and there wasn't anybody else to take charge of their little boy, Rick. I'll say for Brent that he did his duty there."

Alice wanted to ask more. Molly had gotten this information. But the question seemed unimportant. And, doubtless, in this small community a person's life was an open book.

"Meanwhile," said Molly, "Muriel made us like her. She took an interest in everything. Red Cross, Woman's Club and heaven knows what. And still found time for her work. Also, to tear down that old eyestone and put up a decent house, as soon as you could get building materials again. At her own expense too."

"Then the present house is really Muriel's?" Alice remembered that stormy scene when Sloan had started to cut down the apple tree over Brent's objections and at Muriel's orders.

But even at that time, she remembered, Brent had said, insistently, that "the land and what's on it is mine." The apple tree was his, then, but his stubborn attitude about allowing it to be cut down seemed somewhat childish to Alice.

"Every stick and stone of it. And that's about the size of it. Brent came back from the war, the younger came, and there they are. But what Brent contributes, I wouldn't know."

"Well, he works constantly," Alice said, a little defensively perhaps.

Molly sniffed again. "You mean he wanders around with his painting paraphernalia. Brent couldn't work seriously and still hobnob half his time with that drunken Chuck Wisner."

Weather Forecast Depends On When Prophet Was Up

By Arthur Thatcher
Jerseyville—Many of the stories around Feb. 2 on the groundhog theme may seem a bit trite, but one reported here Friday, the day after the official day, may well bear re-considering.

The weather in Jersey county on Feb. 2 was a mixture of cloud and sunshine, and as a result there is a great controversy among the followers of the groundhog as to whether the woodchuck got up early Thursday to discover the sun coming over the horizon under a mass of threatening clouds. No shadow for the early rising groundhogs.

Several hours later, the sun broke through the clouds and shone brightly for the remainder of the day in the locality. This, of course, caused the groundhogs who slept late to emerge into the glare of brilliant sunshine. They must have taken one look around, saw their shadow, and if the old tradition is to be credited, darted right back into their dens to resume hibernation for the next six weeks.

As a result, Jersey county is therefore confronted with a mixed prophecy on ensuing weather condition. Most groundhog believers agree that it is when the rodent first comes out that counts. Hence, this locality has groundhogs which arose early and did not see their shadows out in the open, and others which returned to their dens to resume the long winter sleep. Some observers declare, however, that if the woodchuck sees his shadow any time during the day, it means a return to his den.

Now comes a new groundhog prophecy.

Accidental Death Verdict Returned In Stewart Case

Three neighbors testified Saturday night when Coroner C. H. Muehlhausen conducted an inquest into the death of Miss Ollie Mae Stewart, Sinclair woman who was found dead in a water trough Friday afternoon. The inquest was held at the Williamson Funeral Home.

The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Doris Robinson.

The jury returned a verdict finding that Miss Stewart "came to her death by accidentally, in an unknown manner, falling into a horse trough which was partially filled with water, and drowning. The accident occurred at the farm home of L. J. Stewart, the father of the deceased, on Friday, Feb. 3, 1950, at approximately 2:30 p.m."

The three witnesses were called to the nearby Stewart farm by Mrs. L. J. Stewart after the aged mother became alarmed over the absence of her daughter, who had gone outside to do some work and had not returned. They found her lying face up in the water.

Russell Armstrong was foreman of the jury. Pete Harris, Thomas Stout, Belle Keller, Hazel Wilson, Martha Gilbert were the other members.

Prizes Offered For Best Papers On Local History

The Morgan County Historical society is again offering prizes for the best papers on subjects of local historical interest written by high school and seventh and eighth grade students of Jacksonville and Morgan county.

A first prize of five dollars and a second prize of two dollars and a half is offered for the best paper written by high school students, and similar prizes will be awarded in the seventh and eighth grade division.

Topics should be of historical interest for Jacksonville or for Morgan county. Topics used in former contests concerned such matters as the schools of Morgan county, parochial schools of Jacksonville, the development of the public schools of Jacksonville, railroads of Morgan county, the Underground Railroad in Jacksonville, the coming of the Portuguese.

It has been suggested, in view of the passing of many of the small schools of the county, that particular interest might attach to the history of these schools. Students are free to select their own subjects.

No rules have been made as to the length of the papers, other than that they should cover the subject adequately. References should be given as to the source of material. Titles should be registered as soon as possible with the secretary, Miss Fidelia Abbott, 216 West College avenue. Prizes will be awarded at the April meeting of the society. Papers should be given to Miss Abbott not later than April 5, 1950, marked with a fictitious name, and the school grade of the writer. An envelope should be attached containing the real name. The society reserves the right to withdraw the offer if no papers of sufficient merit are submitted. Last year's winners were Betty Jess and Joan Harbor in the high school division, and Mary Alice Crabtree and David Olsen for the seventh and eighth grade.

After receiving his Ph. D. degree in 1940 at the University of Chicago under Dr. Arthur Compton, Dr. Hughes joined the staff of that university as assistant professor of physics. Later he became civilian physicist with the U. S. naval ordnance laboratory in England and Scotland. He spent most of the war years with the Manhattan project which developed the atomic bomb.

Dr. Hughes later served as Argonne National laboratory until his appointment to his present post. The public is invited to attend the lecture.
